Summer Safety Tips Reduce Injuries

The warm summer sun may seem inviting, but overdoing physical activity during hot weather can cause many preventable physical ailments such as heat rash, heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke.

To prevent the onset of these heat-induced ailments, the U.S. Army Center for Health Promotion and Preventative Medicine – Europe recommends the following:

- Drink plenty of fluids – increase intake no matter what your activity level is. As a general guideline, drink two to four glasses (16 to 32 ounces) of fluids each hour during heavy exercise in a hot environment.
- Replace lost salts and minerals – heavy sweating removes necessary salt and minerals from the body. To replace them, drink a sports drink or fruit juice during exercise or while working in the heat.
- Listen to your body – if exertion makes your heart pound and leaves you short of breath or lightheaded, confused or weak, stop all activity and rest in a cool area.

For more about how to stay safe year-round call 421-2752/civ. 0711-729-2752 or e-mail dreizlerh@6asg.army.mil.
